

Bulldog

Bulldogs are mammals. They have a large head, short muzzle, short legs, a powerful body, and wrinkled skin. They're a very good pet to breed with.

The Bulldog is also called the English Bull Dog. Bulldogs come from England.

They eat a lot of dog food. They also weigh 50 to 55 pounds.

By Kale

Bibliography

www.EnchantedLearning.com/subjects/mammals/dog/Bulldog.shtml

Burger, Carl. All About Bulldogs. Random House, 1962.

O'Neill, Catherine. Dogs On Duty. National Geographic Society, 1988