

Beagles

A Beagle is a playful small dog. It is a whole half dog. It is half wolf and half dog. Beagles were originally bred as rabbit hunters. Beagles are friendly, playful dogs, with short white, black and tan coat. It has ears that are droopy and really soft brown eyes. They weigh about to 20 to 40 pounds (9 to 18 kg).

Beagles have a life span to about 12-15 years. Beagles can be noisy and really difficult to train. They have a drive to chase animals. Beagles like to be played with.

Bibliography

Kallen, Stuart A. Beagles. ABDO & Daughters, 1998.

<http://www.EnchantedLearning.com/Home.html>

By Brett